DRAMATIC LYRICS

BY THE SAME AUTHOR

ERINNA, A TRAGEDY

THE SPECTATOR.

"This is an excellent piece of work, as full of promise as anything we have seen for some time; worthy to be ranked with Mr. Swinburne's 'Atalanta in Calydon'; to be put, that is if we may use an academical expression, in the same class, though not in the same division. . . . About the dramatic power of 'Erinna,' constructed as it is according to the strictest canon of the unities, there can be no question. The treatment, too, is austere in its abstinence from all modern, i.e., non-classical treatment. . . . He shows powers which he may well use hereafter to compel the world to listen."

THE PILOT.

"We have already quoted enough to show that he is a poet of remarkable promise."

THE SCOTSMAN.

"The stately exaltation of the dramatic dialogue through which this fable is unfolded cannot be well exhibited in any brief citation, nor is the melodious richness of the lyrical passages any less remarkable; and the play, as a whole, is an example of cultured Hellenism in English which cannot but interest and impress every lover of refined poetry who considers it."

THE GLASGOW HERALD.

"Mr. Gardon has written a fine play. It is full of beautiful passages, which go to prove that the purest spirit of poetry is still unquenched, and is moving among us."
