PREFACE TO THE SERIES.

WHILE all those who pretend to the character of educated people would be ashamed to be ignorant of the history of Greece and Rome, the lives and achievements of the great men of these countries, and the works of their chief writers, it is to be feared that they content themselves often with a very slight knowledge of the History of the Christian Church and of the illustrious Ecclesiastics who have exercised so vast an influence upon the institutions and manners, the literature and philosophy, as well as the religion of modern Europe.

The Series of Volumes, of which the present forms one, is intended to present to ordinary English readers Sketches of the Chief Fathers of the Church, their Biographies, their Works, and their Times.

Those already prepared are—

LEO THE GREAT.
GREGORY THE GREAT.
ST. AMBROSE.
ST. BASIL THE GREAT.
ST. JEROME.
THE VENERABLE BEDE.
THE APOSTOLIC FATHERS.
THE DEFENDERS OF THE FAITH (Apologists).

Others are in hand.

It is hoped that the series will supply the intelligent Churchman with a lively, accurate, and fairly complete view of the most important periods of Church History.
