PREFACE.

THE following work was suggested by the great public interest taken in the late Franz Liszt during his last visit to England. Circumstances delayed its publication at the time; but the sad news of the Abbé Liszt's death having awakened anew the interest felt by our musical people in the "king of pianists," I confidently hope that all such will now find it useful. I have endeavored to furnish a concise, yet convenient, biographical sketch of the great Hungarian.

RAPHAËL LEDOS DE BEAUFORT.
