PREFATORY NOTE

THE following pages give an account of the International Congress of Women, convened at The Hague in April, 1915, and of the journeys undertaken by two delegations from that Congress.

Much of the material has already appeared in The Survey, and is obviously journalistic in character. It may be of value, however, during these days of much war correspondence, as a report of European conditions from the point of view of that peace sentiment which survives in the midst of every war, but which is not easily uncovered.

If an apology were needed for putting such slight material into a book, it may be stated that the widespread interest in the separate articles seemed to justify presenting them in convenient form.

It is further hoped that this recital by three American women may correct the impression made upon the public by the contradictory accounts given through the press, and that the reader may become interested in the official report of the Congress.
