PREFACE

THERE is a call today for a practical, Christian application of the principles of Psychology.

These lecture sermons have been given to thousands in the churches and on the Chautauqua platform. They have been highly commended by the clergy, laity and the press of the country, and are now sent forth to the larger service of humanity. The author trusts they may bring inspiration, illumination, and help to all who read them, and that greater devotion, more virility and service may be given to Christ and His Church.
