Greeting

THE publication of this volume was undertaken at the instance of the Burlington Board of Trade. It is designed to present a general view of the resources and industries, the material wealth, the moral elevation and the social conditions of one of the most charming cities of New England.

The statistics herein compiled, digested and tabulated have been obtained by conscientious inquiry and from reliable report. Without the aid of business men, manufacturers and others, by giving candid and clear statements of the facts in their possession, and in most cases known only to the individual, the compilation of such a work—even as imperfectly as this has been done—would have been impossible.

The illustrations which accompany the work are believed to add to its interest and permanent value. The subjects of them were selected solely because they were characteristic.

The enterprise and hearty co-operation of many of Burlington's leading business men have made possible the publication and general distribution of the book. It is intended as an advertisement only in the broad sense that every publication setting forth the actual conditions of a prosperous and public-spirited community is such.
