A FOOL ON A ROOF

Et in Arcadia Ego

In a cave dug out of the side of a cliff,

—The Agent calls it a flat;

He thinks he knows, so I pay my rent,

And let it go at that—

I dwell in peace and fair content, Nor mind the lack of air; For the Garden of the Gods is mine By climbing just one more stair.

My cave is snug and warm and cheap, And rich with the loot of years; But the key of the Yale lock lets me out Too often, Margot fears.

But what can I do, when the house top calls
With a voice that I must obey.

It's no use to try—let the work go hang—
I'll do it another day!

Up on the house top, under the sun,

—Ah, but it's good to be here—

The wind off the river's a wee bit sharp,
But I fancy the sad old year

Like some poor woman, young at heart, And use to being fair, Forgets her age and thinks of spring; For spring is in the air.
