INTRODUCTION.

PROFESSOR W.M. A. SCHAPER.

INTRODUCTION.

This volume contains selected papers read at the convention of employers and employes held at Minneapolis September 22-25, 1902. These addresses were first published in the weekly issues of Public Policy, beginning with January 3 of the current year. They were selected by Mr. Allen R. Foote as being most available and suitable for publication from a list of twenty read at the conference. The continual demand for copies of these addresses since the close of the conference is an indication of the widespread interest which these discussions aroused and makes it desirable to give them a more permanent form.

In view of the fact that a lack of funds has so far prevented the publication of the official proceedings of the conference, this volume of addresses is the fullest and most trustworthy report of the transactions of that body published in collected form. The publication of this report is due to the enterprise and public spirit of the editor of Public Policy, and to him we are very grateful for this important service to the public interested in obtaining authentic statements of the views of active thinkers and workers on the puzzling and sometimes distressing labor problem.
