INTRODUCTION.

IN bringing out this little work on the Culture of Trout, the author feels that he is attempting to supply a great want, as many landed proprietors, desirous of stocking their waters with that fish, naturally wish for some simple practical work wherein they may find information which will serve for a help to the servant as well as to the master, especially in the absence of the latter.

The author, in his first attempt at Pisciculture, would have been truly thankful for such a guide ; and, with the hope that they may be of use to others, and enable them to enter upon a successful career, he now ventures to publish the results of his own practical experience.

His grateful acknowledgments are due to the Rev. L. Stone for the account of the Russian or Dry method of Spawning, and for the Spawn and Hatching Tables, &c. ; also to Mr. Richard Edon, of the Museum of Fish Culture, South Kensington, London, for many valuable hints bearing on the subject.

All the methods of procedure recommended, have been personally tried, and nothing has been taken from the works of others, so far as the author is aware, without due acknowledgment.
