PREFACE

THE papers included in this volume were read in Chicago and elsewhere during October and November, 1917. I hope they may help my American colleagues to some appreciation of the causes and conditions of the war, and afford some help to them in their treatment of the many new phases of surgical diseases with which they will be called upon to deal.

The papers represent not only my own views and experience, but those of others also. In forming my opinions upon the several matters discussed I have received very great help from the many consultations and discussions I have had with many of my friends in the different war zones of France and England. I may most appropriately and appreciatively quote—

“I have gathered a posie of other men’s flowers
And nothing but the thread that binds them is mine own.”

BERKELEY MOYNIHAN
