THE TESTIMONY OF CHRIST TO CHRISTIANITY

Testimony of Christ to Christianity.

"Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and show John again those things which ye do hear and see: the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk; the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear; the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them. And blessed is he whosoever shall not be offended in me."—MATTHEW AND LUKE.

PREFATORY NOTE.

8-10-33 8008

It is with a melancholy perception of its defects that I offer this little book to the world. In elaborating a subject so profound in interest, so transcendent in importance, so glorious in general character, the toil of years would have been worthily expended, and the severest intellectual labor would have been but more intense enjoyment. I have been able to devote to its composition only those hours which I could snatch from the occupations of an absorbing profession. To think and write down the argument at first hand, with hardly a glance at the literature of the subject, was a necessity of the circumstances. That literature, however, it is just to state, is one with which I have long been intimately acquainted. My precise argument has not, to my knowledge, been previously exhibited; and I believe I have here stated it intelligibly, and placed it on an impregnable basis. Entertaining this confidence, I must regard the question of publication as affirmatively decided without any consideration of choice.
