PREFACE.

THE author of this little book was in London in the fall of 1858. Addressing the Young Men's Christian Association of that city, he gave an account in brief of the last week in the life of Davis Johnson, Jr. An American clergyman of eminence was on the platform, and closed the service with prayer. Deeply affected by the narrative, he strongly urged its publication. It was issued by Robert Carter & Brothers of New York late in the year 1860, though bearing date 1861, and went through several editions. About the same time it was republished in Edinburgh and London.

The plates are now transferred to the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work, with the approval of the Messrs. Carter, in the hope, and with the prayer, that God may continue to bless the narrative to the glory of his grace in the salvation of souls.
