P R E F A C E .

THESE Sermonettes were written from a distance to cheer the last days of one who, through much tribulation, has entered into the kingdom of God. They were, I am thankful to say, by God's blessing, a great comfort to her ; and at her special request, and that of her sorrowing mother and sister, I have ventured to publish them (abrupt and unstudied as they are) for the use of my own sick friends, and in the hope that they may also breathe a few words of comfort to some other members of the Body of Christ who are called upon to suffer according to the Will of God.

W. E. HAIGH.

KENSINGTON, 1881.

Anything read or said by the sick-bed should be read or said with reverence and sympathy; thoughtfully, gently, and slowly, and followed by a short and appropriate prayer.

WHAT HAS GOD PREPARED FOR THEM THAT LOVE HIM?

HEAVEN will contain all that has made life beautiful on earth, and nothing that made it sorrowful. "He hath prepared for them a city" (Heb. xi. 16).

Heaven will be a social world, with a sphere for the faculties of the spirit, and mind, and glorified body — a world of progress and growth "from glory to glory."

The spirit of man will be satisfied there. We shall see Him as He is, and be like Him. We shall be free at last from temptation, free from the constant struggles of our unruly wills. God's service will be at last perfect freedom.

The mind will be no more burdened with ignorance, and doubt, and fear, and mystery. We shall grow in wisdom and in knowledge.

The body will be no more liable to pain, and weakness, and death, no longer an impediment.
