DEDICATION.

TO THE

REV. J. L. BRERETON,

RECTOR OF WEST BUCKLAND AND PERBENDARY OF SEINTER CATHEDRAL.

MY DEAR BRERETON,

I desire to inscribe this little volume to you as a public recognition, not only of the valuable aid which you have afforded me in the preparation of the following pages, and in collecting materials for the Appendix, but also of the instruction, advantage, and pleasure which I have derived for years from your friendship and society; and I cannot do so more appropriately, I think, than in the words prepared by my lamented father for the Inscription under the Bust of you, which, 'in grateful acknowledgment of the genius that planned, and of the liberality, energy, and judgment that effected' its establishment, he presented to the Devon County School.

Believe me,

Yours very sincerely,

FORTESCUE.
