CHRIST THE ONLY BEGOTTEN OF THE FATHER.

SERMON I.

CHRIST THE ONLY BEGOTTEN OF THE FATHER.

JOHN i. 1, 14.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father), full of grace and truth.

ALL the controversies of our time, whatever questions are stirring at any depth the minds and spirits of men, concentrate themselves more and more around the person of Christ. "What think ye of Christ?" is more and more the question, which according as we answer, we shall answer every other question; for it rules and determines the answers to all. This fact, which few, I imagine, would dispute, must not be re-
