

THE ANGLO-SAXON CENTURY AND THE
UNIFICATION OF THE
ENGLISH-SPEAKING PEOPLE

Published @ 2017 Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd

ISBN 9780649055180

The Anglo-Saxon Century and the Unification of the English-Speaking People by John R. Dos Passos

Except for use in any review, the reproduction or utilisation of this work in whole or in part in any form by any electronic, mechanical or other means, now known or hereafter invented, including xerography, photocopying and recording, or in any information storage or retrieval system, is forbidden without the permission of the publisher, Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd, PO Box 1576 Collingwood, Victoria 3066 Australia.

All rights reserved.

Edited by Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd.
Cover @ 2017

This book is sold subject to the condition that it shall not, by way of trade or otherwise, be lent, re-sold, hired out, or otherwise circulated without the publisher's prior consent in any form or binding or cover other than that in which it is published and without a similar condition including this condition being imposed on the subsequent purchaser.

www.triestepublishing.com

JOHN R. DOS PASSOS

THE ANGLO-SAXON
CENTURY AND THE
UNIFICATION OF THE
ENGLISH-SPEAKING PEOPLE

By JOHN R. DOS PASSOS

The Anglo-Saxon Century and the Unification of the English-Speaking People. 8vo.

Commercial Trusts. The Growth and Rights of Aggregated Capital. An Argument Delivered before the Industrial Commission of Washington, D. C., December 12, 1899.

THE ANGLO-SAXON CENTURY

AND

THE UNIFICATION OF THE
ENGLISH-SPEAKING PEOPLE

BY

JOHN R. DOS PASSOS

OF THE NEW YORK BAR

Author of "Stock Brokers and Stock Exchanges," "The Interstate Commerce Act," "Commercial Trusts," etc.

Copyright © 1903
G. P. Putnam's Sons

SECOND EDITION

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS
NEW YORK AND LONDON
The Knickerbocker Press

1903

JX 1428
G7D6

COPYRIGHT, 1903
BY
JOHN R. DOS PASSOS

Published, June, 1903
Reprinted, August, 1903

TO MRU
ANBROGLIAO

The Knickerbocker Press, New York

25C

ANALYSIS

CHAPTER	PAGE
Introduction	vii
I. Two events which mark the close of the nineteenth century	I
I. By the Spanish War, the relations of the United States to Europe and the East were suddenly transformed	3
II. The effect of the war in Africa upon the relations and power of England	5
III. The present diplomatic and political map of the world	8
IV. Russia, China, France—their relations to each other and to the world	10
V. The Spanish and Portuguese people	31
II. The origin and form of the suggested alliance between England and the United States	48
I. How the suggestion arose	48
II. The indefiniteness of the form of the proposed alliance	55
III. Definition of co-operation, alliance, union, or compact	61
III. The historical facts traced which have been gradually leading to interfusion between the English-speaking people	69

M20731

CHAPTER	PAGE
i. The different epochs which led to the development and expansion of the English-speaking race	71
a. The introduction of Christianity into England	71
b. The consolidation of the different kingdoms of England into one	74
c. The influence of the Roman Law upon England's progress	77
d. The Great Charters—the Petition of Right—the Habeas Corpus Act, passed under Charles—the Bill of Rights in 1688—and the Act of Settlement	79
e. The union with Scotland	80
f. Discovery of America	81
g. The independence of the colonies	83
ii. Résumé of the foregoing	96
IV. The inherent natural reasons or sympathetic causes which sustain a union, and which support the historical growth and tendency to the same end examined	99
i. Union natural as to time and people	100
ii. Of the same national family	101
iii. The same language	108
iv. The same literature	116
v. The same political institutions	124
vi. The same laws, legal customs, and general modes of judicial procedure	133
vii. The same tendency and methods of religious thought and worship	137
viii. Intermarriages	138

Analysis

v

CHAPTER

PAGE

IX.	Other similarities between the two nations, exhibiting the natural features of the alliance, such as the drama, sports, pastimes, habits of living	139
x.	Résumé	140
V.	The selfish causes which provoke and support an alliance examined	142
i.	The common interests of both countries demand co-operation — identity of international action	142
	Commercial relations	144
	Financial relations	144
ii.	Self-preservation—protection—necessity	145
iii.	Duty	146
VI.	The means by which a closer union may be created and maintained	152
	Preliminary	153
	The three methods examined by which a union may be established	154
	By absorption of all into one nation	154
	By establishing a federation	154
	By a treaty—regulating their conduct and intercourse with each other	155
	The reasons existing against the first two, and in favor of the last method	156
VII.	The subjects to be covered by a Treaty	159
i.	The Dominion of Canada to become a part of the United States of America	159
ii.	Common Citizenship	179
iii.	The establishment of freedom of commercial intercourse and relations between the countries involved, to the same extent as that which exists between the different States constituting the United States of America	202

CHAPTER		PAGE
IV.	Great Britain and the United States (1) to coin gold, silver, nickel and copper money, not displaying the same devices or mottoes, but possessing an equal money value, and interchangeable everywhere within the limits covered by the Treaty, and (2) to establish a uniform standard of weights and measures	205
	I. The same gold, silver, nickel and copper money	205
	II. To establish a uniform standard of weights and measures	207
V.	In case of any dispute hereafter occurring between Great Britain, or any of her colonies, and the United States, the same to be referred to a supreme court of arbitration	207
✓ CONCLUSION.	The state of public opinion upon the question of Anglo-Saxon alliance	209