LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

Portrait of the author	Frontispiece
For the first time in my life I had a king for an interpreter	To face page 32
"I haven't finished my smoke, and I really cannot concentrate my thoughts without it"	" 88
He whispered that it was the button on his coat that was the object of his thought	" 126
In an experiment with Lord Kitchener he thought of a man whom he wished to be killed in a certain way. I at once found out the victim and proceeded to throttle him, which was the death Lord Kitchener had chosen	" 150
I once experimented with General Kuropatkin, who thought of the scar of an old wound, which I at once located	" 152
Like an arrow from a bow, straight went his thoughts in the direction of the pin, and his body with them	" 176
I succeeded in one rather difficult test—which consisted in solving whilst blindfolded a difficult problem—with the late Herr Steinitz, one of the greatest of modern chess-players	" 184
