A NILE JOURNAL.

START ON P. & O. "INDIA."

Frances Noble NOVEMBER 24th, 1905. Off at 8-30 in Victoria.
Mrs. Noble and Elizabeth with me to see me off.
Mary Lamb (M. and F.) are to meet me at Marseilles. F. is already at Mentone, paying a visit to F. D. M. will Fanny Lang go straight to Marseilles in time for Dec. 1.

Train from Richmond to Broad Street. From there just across road to Liverpool Street. Special train to Tilbury from there. Glad of a good warm in waiting room, morning very fine but cold and frosty. Had been afraid it might be slippery, but it was not. Mrs. Noble would carry Japanese basket. She is invaluable, and keenly enjoyed the out; would have given worlds to go. Train to Tilbury very full, Australians in carriage with us. Crowds of friends left on station. About half-an-hour's journey to Tilbury, view just answering to what one hears called Essex flat. Arrived, had a little way to walk, partly through mud, then arrived at a very small steamer. Thought this could not be P. & O. "India" to hold hundreds of people, dawned on us it was the
