'We are much mistaken if many are not allured to the acquisition of knowledge by a perusal of these volumes. We can recommend the work most earnestly to those who wish to place an interesting book in the hands of youth.'—Astoria Jour.

'No head of a family, we presume, will think of dispensing with this work, at least no one that is anxious to invigorate the minds of his children by commencing to them an early taste for the more valuable and profitable pursuits of the human understanding.'—Monthly Review.

'Of all the little works contrived of late years for the purpose of conveying information to young folks in an attractive manner, this, we think, will prove by far the most successful.'—Monthly Magazine.

'An interesting present for young people. The book is extremely cheap, only half-a-guinea for three volumes!'—Spectator.

NEW CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.

2. Mrs. MARKHAM'S HISTORY of ENGLAND. Fourth Edition, with numerous Wood Cuts. 2 vols. 12mo. 16s. 6ds.

3. A HISTORY of FRANCE. By Mrs. MARKHAM. With numerous Wood Engravings, illustrative of the progressive Changes in Manners, Customs, Dress, &c. Third Edition. 2 vols. 12mo. 16s.

4. A SHORT HISTORY of SPAIN. On the Plan of 'Mrs. Markham's Histories of England and France.' By MARIA CALCOTT. With Wood Engravings. 2 vols. 12mo. 16s.

* These works are constructed on a plan which is novel and, we think, well chosen. They are divided into chapters, and at the end of each chapter is subjoined a conversation suggested by the matter of the preceding text. By this arrangement a consecutive narrative is kept up, while, at the same time, everything interesting connected with each reign is made the subject of discussion and examination: thus much valuable and curious information is imparted without disturbing the continuity or perplexing the progressive steps of the history. The works bear throughout evident marks that the author is completely versed in every part of the History of the two countries. She has shown great judgment in the selection of events and of those particulars which are most likely to attract the attention of children. She offers to their notice exactly the species of knowledge which they can best understand, and does not confuse them with a recital of the complicated manoeuvres of political factions.

* We are glad to find that these excellent little Histories are deservedly popular. They cannot be too strongly recommended as adapted for the perusal of youth, while readers of more advanced age may find in their pages much that is novel and entertaining.—Journal of Education.

5. The JOURNAL of a NATURALIST. Third Edition. Plates and Wood Cuts. Post 8vo. 15s.

6. GLEANINGS in NATURAL HISTORY. With Local Recollections. By EDWARD JESSU, Esq. Being a Companion to the 'Journal of a Naturalist.' A new Edition. Post 8vo. 10s. 6d.

4 JOURNAL of an Expedition to Explore the Course and Termination of the Niger. By RICHARD and JOHN LARDER. With Portraits of the Authors, and other Illustrative Engravings, and a Map of the Route, showing the Course of the Niger to the Sea. In 3 vols. small 8vo. 13s.

'These volumes record perhaps the most important geographical discovery of the present age. In consequence of the attraction possessed by them, and the very accessible form under which, in preference to the costly and ponderous quarto, their enterprising publisher has presented them, there will perhaps be very few of our readers to whom the incidents of this remarkable voyage will not be familiar. The narrative never ceases to be very interesting.'—Edinburgh Review.
