SCHEME OF INSTRUCTION

Courses are offered under the following departments: (1) History, (2) Public Law and Comparative Jurisprudence, (3) Economics, (4) Social Science.

The Faculty does not aim to offer courses that cover comprehensively all of the subjects that are included within the fields of its interests.

GENERAL COURSES

General courses involve on the part of the student work outside of the classroom; but no such course involves extensive investigation to be presented in essay or other form.

History, twenty-one general courses. Public Law and Comparative Jurisprudence, twelve general courses. Economics, thirteen general courses. Social Science, seven general courses.

RESEARCH COURSES

Research courses vary widely in method and content; but every such course involves on the part of the student extensive work outside the classroom.

History, thirteen research courses. Public Law and Comparative Jurisprudence, eight research courses. Economics, ten research courses. Social Science, ten research courses.

The degrees of A.M. and Ph.D. are given to students who fulfill the requirements prescribed. (For particulars, see Columbia University Bulletins of Information, Faculty of Political Science.) Any person not a candidate for a degree may attend any of the courses at any time by payment of a proportional fee. Ten or more Cutting fellowships of $1000 each or more, four University fellowships of $650 each, two or three Glider fellowships of $650—$800 each, the Schiff fellowship of $600, the Curtis fellowship of $600, the Garth fellowship of $650 and a number of University scholarships of $150 each are awarded to applicants who give evidence of special fitness to pursue advanced studies. Several prizes of from $50 to $250 are awarded. The library contains over 700,000 volumes and students have access to other great collections in the city.
