WHAT YOU WILL HEAR AT MOBILE NEXT YEAR.

The Committee on Queries and Papers for the next meeting, Messrs. W. B. Parker, James W. Milner and E. H. Cross, have secured the following list of topics and contributors which ought to convince every one of the pleasure and instruction to be derived from that portion of our next annual session. The literary and pharmaceutical excellence of the papers will be humorously capped by a racy potpourri under the lead of the committee on the funny incidents of our daily occupations. Bring your best anecdote for the delight of the members. The papers already pledged are as follows:

Acetanilid.....	Philip Lobenhoffer, A. M.
Side Line in Pharmacy.....	G. B. McVay and F. F. Ravenscroft.
Pharmaceutical Examinations.....	Charles Mohr, M. D.
Further Experiments in Petroleum and its Products.....	L. S. Brigham.
Sunday Sales.....	Amzi Godden.
Protection of Drugs from Deterioration.....	W. B. Parker.
How to make Advertising Pay.....	F. E. Nabers.
Method and Practical Use of Window Display.....	R. L. Newman.
Pleasures and Profits of the Drug Business.....	W. F. Dent and W. E. Bingham.
The Funny Things I have Seen in a Drug Store.....	All Members.
Subject upon which all are invited to bring excerpts from their experiences.

 R. J. Grady, Union Springs.

On motion the Secretary was instructed to cast the ballot for the candidates, which was done, and they were declared elected.

On motion the following ladies present were elected honorary members:

Mrs. J. A. Daugherty, Birmingham.
 Mrs. E. E. Elam, Anniston.
 Miss Mark Parker Battle, Livingston.

On motion Prof. J. P. Remington and H. M. Whelpley were elected honorary members.

The reports of officers being in order, President Bingham delivered his address:

Mr. Chairman and Members of the Alabama Pharmaceutical Association:

For the second time, by your kind indulgence, as presiding officer of this Association, I have the honor to submit to you my annual address. We have cause for profound gratitude to God who has spared our lives and
