ADVERTISEMENT.

THE opening Letter in this Volume was suggested by Bishop Colenso's work on the Pentateuch. But it touches on several points which have only an indirect connection with that work; it omits many which the Bishop would, no doubt, consider important. The Letters which follow are strictly in reply to the first, not the least a refutation or review of the book which called that letter forth. The final one states the impressions of the Layman respecting the answers which have been made to him.
