PREFACE.

THE Indexes to Patents are now so numerous and costly, as to be placed beyond the reach of a large number of inventors and others, to whom they have become indispensable.

To obviate this difficulty, short abstracts or abridgments of the Specifications of Patents under each head of Invention have been prepared for publication separately, and so arranged as to form at once a Chronological, Subject-matter, Reference, and Alphabetical Index to the class to which they relate. As these publications do not supersede the necessity for consulting the Specifications, the prices at which the latter are sold have been added.

In this Series of Abridgments of the Specifications of Patents relating to Pottery are comprised the Inventions which relate to the application to certain purposes of articles made of this manufacture; also the Inventions relating to the making and preparing of the various materials employed; likewise, the machines and machinery and methods of manipulation adopted throughout the various branches of the manufacture; together with the processes for ornamenting, painting, printing, and finishing the same.

Many of these Specifications relating to Pottery embrace also inventions in Drain Tiles and Pipes, and Bricks and Tiles; in such cases reference is made to these classes of Abridgments.
