VOLUME XXXII.

COMPILED BY
JOHN M. TRUE, Secretary.

MADISON, WIS.:
DEMOCRAT PRINTING COMPANY, STATE PRINTER,
1894.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

To his excellency, GEO. W. PECK,

Governor of the State of Wisconsin:

The State Agricultural Society, in deference to the claims of the World's Columbian Exposition, decided to hold no fair in 1893. The sequel showed that this action was well taken. As a result, the financial transactions, herewith transmitted, are mainly limited to the office expenses, and claims of routine work. In the place of the papers and discussions usually gathered from the winter convention of the Society, the secretary has solicited papers, upon leading agricultural topics, by practical agriculturists and stockgrowers of the state, which are hereby presented for publication.

The present outlook for the Society is highly encouraging; and with the coming season we anticipate a most successful re-opening of our State Fair work.

Very respectfully yours,

JOHN M. TRUE,

Secretary.
