BIBLIOGRAPHY OF DOMESTIC ECONOMY

IN ENGLISH

PREFACE

The aim of this bibliography is to include all bound books on domestic economy published in the English language between 1850 and 1899 inclusive. Pamphlets are as a rule omitted, and likewise all entries listed at 10c or less in American, and 6d or less in English money. No attempt has been made to include analytic or magazine references, a limitation barring government documents in which much useful material may be found. Of periodicals dealing chiefly with subjects in domestic economy only current magazines and journals find place in the list, or those which have been met with in catalogues or bibliographies. Lists of earlier ones may be found in the newspaper guides cited among the bibliographic aids.

The term "domestic economy" has been taken in the narrower sense of the management of house and children, together with the teaching of domestic economy and cookery thus covering the same ground as subject number 640 of the Decimal classification. With few exceptions, material is arranged by the following tentative scheme proposed for the seventh (20th century) edition of the Decimal classification; though many heads, specially under 643-645 fall outside the scope of this bibliography.

Call numbers are given for books in the New York state library, but not for those in the public libraries division. Books marked e have been personally examined, while e means that the edition given is different from the one examined; the best books are starred. Bost. Sal. Wor. at the end of entries stand for Boston, Salem, Worcester public libraries; N. Y. for N. Y. state library.
