PREFACE

By kind permission of the Editor, I am allowed to say a few words to my younger brethren in the ministry, in reference to the duty of doctrinal preaching. The mere name is alarming. It suggests dry, uninteresting topics, susceptible only of technical and abstruse treatment. It conjures up visions of bored and decreasing audiences. It awakens dread of frank criticism from alert and practical men, who "don't want to be bothered with out-of-date dogmas," and urge that what they need is "something that will bear on their everyday life."
