

CONTRIBUTIONS TO PHILOSOPHY, PSYCHOLOGY
AND EDUCATION, VOL. II,
NO. 1: HEGEL AS EDUCATOR

Published @ 2017 Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd

ISBN 9780649103294

Contributions to philosophy, psychology and education, Vol. II, No. 1: Hegel as educator by
Frederic Ludlow Luqueer

Except for use in any review, the reproduction or utilisation of this work in whole or in part in any form by any electronic, mechanical or other means, now known or hereafter invented, including xerography, photocopying and recording, or in any information storage or retrieval system, is forbidden without the permission of the publisher, Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd, PO Box 1576 Collingwood, Victoria 3066 Australia.

All rights reserved.

Edited by Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd.
Cover @ 2017

This book is sold subject to the condition that it shall not, by way of trade or otherwise, be lent, re-sold, hired out, or otherwise circulated without the publisher's prior consent in any form or binding or cover other than that in which it is published and without a similar condition including this condition being imposed on the subsequent purchaser.

www.triestepublishing.com

FREDERIC LUDLOW LUQUEER

CONTRIBUTIONS TO PHILOSOPHY, PSYCHOLOGY
AND EDUCATION, VOL. II,
NO. 1: HEGEL AS EDUCATOR

Columbia University Contributions

TO

Philosophy, Psychology and Education

The Division of Philosophy, Psychology and Education of Columbia University has undertaken to issue a series of Contributions on Philosophical, Psychological and Educational subjects, that are to appear under the editorship of the members of the Division. These Contributions are not intended to interfere in any way with existing journals, to which the members of the Division will continue to lend their cordial support as heretofore. The new series will contain:

(1) The longer and more important dissertations submitted by advanced students in philosophy, psychology and education, in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

(2) Occasional longer and more technical studies by the professors and instructors themselves.

(3) Reprints from other Journals of contributions made to them by members of the Division of Philosophy, Psychology and Education at Columbia.

The Contributions will appear at irregular intervals, and will be numbered consecutively for binding and preservation in volumes of about 500 pages each. The price of each number will be fixed at the time of its appearance. The editors propose to conform in every respect to the directions regarding such publications recently formulated by the Trustees of the Columbia University Press.

Libraries and specialists desiring to receive the Contributions regularly as issued are requested to communicate with the publishers without delay.

The following Numbers of the Contributions are now ready:

VOLUME I

1. Friedrich Heinrich Jacobi: a Study in the Origin of German Realism, by Norman Wilde, Ph. D., Assistant in Philosophy at Columbia University (May, 1894. Price 60 cents.)

2. Kant's Inaugural Dissertation of 1770, including a translation of the Dissertation, together with an Introduction and Discussion, by W. J. Eckoff, Ph. D., lately Professor of Philosophy and Pedagogy in the University of Colorado. (May, 1894. Price 90 cents.)

3. The Ethical System of James Martineau, by Joseph H. Hertz, Ph. D., Lecturer on Rabbinical thought in Syracuse University. (June, 1894. Price, 60 cents.)

4. Friedrich Eduard Beneke: the Man and his Philosophy, by Francis Burke Brandt, Ph. D., Instructor in Psychology at the Central High School, Philadelphia, Pa. (June, 1895. Price, $1.00.)

VOLUME II

5. Hegel as Educator, by Frederic Ludlow Luqueer, Ph. D., Principal of Public School No. 110, Brooklyn, N. Y. (May, 1896. $1.00.)

6. Hegel's Doctrine of the Will, by John Angus Mac Vannel, Ph. D., Assistant in Philosophy at Columbia University. (June, 1896. $1.00.)

For full information apply to

MACMILLAN & COMPANY,

66 Fifth Avenue, New York.

1

HEGEL AS EDUCATOR

CONTRIBUTIONS
TO
PHILOSOPHY, PSYCHOLOGY AND EDUCATION

VOL. II

No. 1

HEGEL AS EDUCATOR

BY

FREDERIC LUDLOW LUQUEER, Ph.D.

Sometime Fellow in Education in Columbia University

MACMILLAN & CO
66 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK
MAY, 1896
Price $1

PREFACE

---

THE present work would view Hegel from a standpoint perhaps new to English readers. Hegel's philosophy has often been made to seem a wall about Hegel himself. His thought is the man, it has been said. An outline, therefore, of his system often serves as biography. But in fact Hegel's life is full of interest apart from his philosophy.

This is especially true of him as student and teacher. Part First would show Hegel mainly in these relationships.

Part Second contains the chief of Hegel's thoughts on education.<sup>1</sup> They enrich the concept of education. Their value is apparent. They may serve, too, as an introduction to Hegel as philosopher—his essential character.

It is hoped that the two parts, taken together, will help to make clear, at least some aspects of a true educational ideal.

<sup>1</sup> Translated mainly from Thaulow: Hegel's Ansichten über Erziehung.

CONTENTS

---

PART I

LIFE

CHAPTER I

	PAGE
Hegel's education—home, school and university . . . . .	11

CHAPTER II

Hegel as tutor in Bern and Frankfurt . . . . .	18
--	----

CHAPTER III

Hegel as university lecturer in Jena . . . . .	34
--	----

CHAPTER IV

Hegel as schoolmaster at Nürnberg gymnasium . . . . .	48
---	----

CHAPTER V

Hegel as professor of philosophy in Heidelberg . . . . .	66
--	----

CHAPTER VI

Hegel in Berlin : Professor of philosophy and rector . . . . .	78
--	----

PART II

HEGEL'S VIEW OF EDUCATION

	PAGE
INTRODUCTION . . . . .	103
TRANSLATIONS, grouped as follows :
I. GENERAL NOTION OF EDUCATION . . . . .	107
1. Definition of education . . . . .	107
2. Education should lead to reflective self-consciousness .	108
3. Education should make free . . . . .	108
4. Education should lead to unselfish interest in what is actual and true . . . . .	109
5. Education gives individuality and power, and conscious- ness of these . . . . .	111
6. The culture of the race must be absorbed by the indi- vidual . . . . .	112
7. Mankind a unity in their rationality ; but this does not mean unattached cosmopolitanism for the individual.	113
8. The individual will to be brought into accord with the social good . . . . .	113
9. Belief. Religious education . . . . .	114
10. Religious teaching . . . . .	116
11. Ethical ideas are understood by the child ; and should be taught . . . . .	117
12. Moral education the common work of parent and teacher . . . . .	118
II. HUMAN NATURE, WITH REFERENCE TO EDUCATION .	118
13. The ages of man . . . . .	118
14. Body, soul, spirit . . . . .	128
15. Temperament and character . . . . .	131
16. The human spirit a unity. Head and heart, intelligence and will inseparable . . . . .	134
17. Memory. Mnemonics . . . . .	135
18. Habit . . . . .	136

	PAGE
III. WHAT THE PUPIL MUST BRING TO HIS EDUCATION . . . . .	138
19. Precocity not the promise of eminence . . . . .	138
20. Energy and promptness . . . . .	138
21. Attention . . . . .	138
22. Obedience the condition of obtaining independence . . . . .	139
23. Silence and docility required of a learner . . . . .	140
24. Self-forgetful interest in affairs . . . . .	141
25. Intuition the beginning—but only the beginning—of complete knowledge . . . . .	142
26. Reflection . . . . .	143
27. Self-activity implied in learning . . . . .	244
IV. THE EDUCATION OF THE SCHOOL, IN RELATION TO THE FAMILY AND TO SOCIETY . . . . .	145
28. The importance of a good education, and the right of children thereto . . . . .	145
29. The mother's influence . . . . .	145
30. The right of compulsory education . . . . .	146
31. Education a serious work . . . . .	146
32. School life a preparation for after life . . . . .	147
33. Educational building should be solid . . . . .	147
34. The pupil not to be educated in solitude (Rousseau's Emil) ; nor, on the other hand, amid all the distractions of society . . . . .	148
35. School government and discipline . . . . .	149
36. One phase of the poetry of youth . . . . .	150
37. Friendship . . . . .	151
38. The Sturm und Drang period of youth . . . . .	151
39. The necessity and value of a vocation . . . . .	152
V. CULTURE VALUES OF VARIOUS SUBJECTS . . . . .	153
40. Military drill . . . . .	153
41. Arithmetic . . . . .	154
42. Grammar . . . . .	155
43. The voice. Declamation. Reading . . . . .	156
44. Culture essential to sound and noble speech . . . . .	156