Meriwether Genealogical Tables and Family Record, 1889.

In the 1902 edition of the Hughes Family of Kentucky and Virginia, the bulk of the data was obtained from the family records of my mother, Mary Esther (Hughes) Sullivan; my sister, Lucinda Blackmore (Sullivan) Davis; my great aunt, Martha Hughes, and the family Bible of my great grandmother, Esther (Cox) Hughes, H4NNH, C5H. All four of these kinswomen are deceased.

Since that time, however, and, in fact, within the past few years, new information has been developed through the indefatigable efforts of Lydia Annie Hughes, granddaughter of Major John Hughes, Jr., H3, through his sixth son, James Neville Hughes, in which considerable new data have appeared in connection with the earlier records of the Cox, Crawford, Tarleton and Wood families. Furthermore, were it not for her proverbial interest in the genealogy of the Hughes Family and many of its collateral connections, the Aston Line, which hitherto has not been recorded as antecedent to the Cocks-Cox Line as generally understood by practically all our relatives, could not have been incorporated in the 1920 edition. Indeed, her new data have been the real incentive toward the issue of this work, in which will be found a republished sketch of her grandfather and my great great grandfather.

Fanny Wormald Sadler, daughter of my grandfather's sister, Judith Anne (Hughes) Sadler, has materially assisted in assembling parts of unknown records, and portions of her letters, written from time to time during the last 15 years, have been used to indicate connection with our numerous relatives in Kentucky.

The plan pursued has been to connect the pedigrees of eight families, including the Neville Line, to indicate direct descent to my children and grandchildren, and also to have two pedigrees in two collateral lines—one, to show direct descent in the Hughes Line through my grandmother, Sarah Jane (Hughes) Hughes; the other, the Cunliffe Line, to show the relationship of her sister, Eliza Ann (Hughes), whose husband was William Cunliffe, for the information of the numerous descendants in that line. The records furnished by Elizabeth (Hughes-Elliott-Cunliffe) Hudson H7(4-4), Cf5 Ibid, and the records of Martha Hughes in her mother's Bible have been used in the Cunliffe family history. The names of all children of the various lines in each generation have been included where data were available, and no relative having connection with any of the names appearing in the eight families in the large table or in the two collateral pedigrees should have trouble in ascertaining relationship.

Data for the Meriwether pedigree were taken from the Meriwether Genealogy, 1889, by George Wood Meriwether and published by his
