IT will be seen that these Reminiscences, in all their essential parts, were written long ago. I was at first undecided as to the fittest time for giving them to the world. But, on the whole, no time has seemed fitter than shortly after the long-foreseen, long-dreaded event for which we are now sorrowing—the not unmixedly sad event, nevertheless, which brings a career of such life-long devotion vividly before us, and which enables, nay, constrains us to reflect that the patriotic hero of so many struggles and, alas, the patient victim of so much suffering is resting from his labours, and that his works shall follow him.
