POEMS.

THE SPHINX.

The Sphink is drowsy,

Her wings are furled;

Her ear is beavy,

She broods on the world.

"Who'll tell me my secret,

The ages have kept?—

I awaited the seer,

While they slumbered and slept;—

"The fate of the man-child;
The meaning of man;
Known fruit of the unknown;
Dædalian plan;

A 7 W -

7

Out of sleeping a waking, Out of waking a sleep; Life death overtaking; Deep underneath deep!

"Erect as a sunbeam,
Upspringeth the palm;
The elephant browses,
Undaunted and calm;
In beautiful motion
The thrush plies his wings:
Kind leaves of his covert,
Your silence he sings.

"The waves, unashamed.

In difference sweet,

Play glad with the breezes,
Old playfellows meet;

The journeying atoms,
Primordial wholes,

Firmly draw, firmly drive,
By their animate poles.
