

"THINGS NEW AND OLD", FOR
THE GLORY OF GOD, AND
EVERLASTING BENEFIT OF ALL
WHO READ AND UNDERSTAND THEM

Published @ 2017 Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd

ISBN 9780649720385

"Things New and Old", for the Glory of God, and Everlasting Benefit of All who Read and Understand Them by Albert Welles

Except for use in any review, the reproduction or utilisation of this work in whole or in part in any form by any electronic, mechanical or other means, now known or hereafter invented, including xerography, photocopying and recording, or in any information storage or retrieval system, is forbidden without the permission of the publisher, Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd, PO Box 1576 Collingwood, Victoria 3066 Australia.

All rights reserved.

Edited by Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd.
Cover @ 2017

This book is sold subject to the condition that it shall not, by way of trade or otherwise, be lent, re-sold, hired out, or otherwise circulated without the publisher's prior consent in any form or binding or cover other than that in which it is published and without a similar condition including this condition being imposed on the subsequent purchaser.

www.triestepublishing.com

ALBERT WELLES

"THINGS NEW AND OLD", FOR
THE GLORY OF GOD, AND
EVERLASTING BENEFIT OF ALL WHO READ AND UNDERSTAND THEM

Andrew Jackson.

Martin Van Buren.

John Tyler.

Bishop Onderdonk.

Bishop Hughes.

“THINGS NEW AND OLD,”
FOR THE GLORY OF GOD,
AND
EVERLASTING BENEFIT OF ALL WHO READ AND UNDERSTAND THEM; OR
OLD REVELATIONS AND PROPHECIES
IN SEVERAL SERMONS,

REVISED, ENRICHED, EMBELLISHED AND CONFIRMED;

—AND—

DEDICATED TO THEIR EXCELLENCIES, ANDREW JACKSON, MARTIN VAN BUREN, JOHN TYLER, BISHOP ONDERDONK, AND BISHOP HUGHES.

---

BY A DESCENDANT FROM ONE OF THE EARLY PURITANIC GOVERNORS.

The Rev. Prof. Miller
“NE QUID FALSI DICERE AUDEAT,
NE QUID VERI, NON AUDEAT.”

Bear with me a little, in my folly, seeing ye yourselves are wise.—PAUL.

---

“ PORTLAND:
PUBLISHED BY WILLIAM HYDE.
THURSTON, ILSLEY & CO., PRINTERS.

1845.

1891
C 139.48

HARVARD COLLEGE LIBRARY

Entered according to act of Congress by WILLIAM HYDE,
In the Clerk's Office of the District of Maine, in the A. D. 1845.

DEDICATION.

TO your Excellencies, viz: ex-Presidents ANDREW JACKSON, MARTIN VAN BUREN, JOHN TYLER, and Bishops ONDERDONK and HUGES, this work is here very ceremoniously inscribed.

IT WILL strike all minds acquainted with this work, and with you, that there are no personages in North America, so worthy of a dedication of a work of this kind, as yourselves. All of you have preached, and harranged, for many years, to the members of the vast congregation, for which these sermons are designed; and all of you have stoutly professed to wish well to asses.

If I have offended your excellencies, by encroaching upon your employment, it is fit I should beg your pardon, or offer some apology; but as I have often seen your public declarations, that there was plenty of work for you, and hundreds more in that line of business, I trust you will not be offended at receiving a little assistance from one, who means well to every member of each of your congregations.

Cherishing the hope, that you will recommend these sermons to your numerous acquaintances and friends, I am,

Your most humble servant,

THE AUTHOR.

1. The first part of the text discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and activities. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for ensuring transparency and accountability in financial reporting. This section also highlights the role of internal controls in preventing errors and fraud, and the need for regular audits to verify the accuracy of the data.

2. The second part of the text focuses on the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and activities. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for ensuring transparency and accountability in financial reporting. This section also highlights the role of internal controls in preventing errors and fraud, and the need for regular audits to verify the accuracy of the data.

3. The third part of the text discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and activities. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for ensuring transparency and accountability in financial reporting. This section also highlights the role of internal controls in preventing errors and fraud, and the need for regular audits to verify the accuracy of the data.

4. The fourth part of the text focuses on the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and activities. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for ensuring transparency and accountability in financial reporting. This section also highlights the role of internal controls in preventing errors and fraud, and the need for regular audits to verify the accuracy of the data.

5. The fifth part of the text discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and activities. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for ensuring transparency and accountability in financial reporting. This section also highlights the role of internal controls in preventing errors and fraud, and the need for regular audits to verify the accuracy of the data.

CRITICAL NOTICES

Of the "First Edition" of "THINGS, NEW AND OLD, viz:

From the Pittsburgh Telegraph, of Oct. 13, 1847.

REVIEWS OF THEOLOGICAL AND CIVIL HISTORY.

MR. EDITOR,—I had the pleasure to hear a Review, given by Rev. Prof. Welles, in the church of Rev. Mr. Fulton, last Sabbath evening, and feel strongly desirous that he should be encouraged to give a course to our citizens, in one of our churches; as I am confident that intelligent and critical hearers would be highly entertained and improved by attending. I well know that his Reviews have been spoken of in the strongest terms of commendation by gentlemen in the highest walks of literature, taste, science and theology in our country.

A FRIEND TO HISTORICAL RESEARCHES.

From the "Portland Bulletin" and "New York Christian Intelligencer," respecting the Reviews, referred to above, entitled

"THINGS NEW AND OLD."

The New York Christian Intelligencer, in noticing the excellent (we came very near writing eccentric;) work with the above title, lately published by William Hyde, of this city, makes the following just remarks, concerning its merits:—

"This octavo, of 260 pages, consists of eight very remarkable sermons on very striking texts of Scripture. The contents are in keeping with the title page, as above given. The author, as appears from the preface, has numbered nearly three score and ten years. But no one who reads his book will readily be persuaded that time has in the least impeded the current of his thoughts. The structure of his mind is peculiar. His book is remarkable for pith, wit and pungency; also for the great variety in its contents. It displays the very ardent temperament of the author, who has a mind of his own, and expresses it, not only freely, but with characteristic severity. His views of things, civil and ecclesiastical, are very prominently and impressively presented. The serious reader may be aided in forming some idea of this singular book, by taking the Bible, and turning to some of the passages selected as the subjects of discourse. The first of these is recorded in Gen. xlix. 14. Another is that in Numbers xxii. 21—30."

We conclude this brief notice in the truthful words of the author:—
"Though there may be some things that seem to savor a little of the ludicrous in these sermons," [and we may add, some things which the sober reader will regret,] "yet he may rest quite assured that he will find also some very serious things, highly worthy of his notice."

By Dr. Cheever, in "New York Evangelist."

"THINGS NEW AND OLD." By a descendant of one of the old Puritanic Governors. E. Collier.

This is a strange work; but under its uncouth and fantastic garb contains the most timely truths, which many besides this honest Puritan have felt, but none dared express so plainly. A more out-spoken, unflinching picture of the times, and of the real causes of the dark aspects of things we have never seen; and the reader, if he will overlook the oddity, sometimes whimsical, and sometimes tedious, will find thoughts and counsels not only worth his trouble, but also worth cherishing.

From the Portland Bulletin of April 21, 1845.

"THINGS NEW AND OLD." A Boston lady of uncommon talents, who is known as an authoress, being the other day in the store of the publisher, spoke in terms of very high commendation of this volume—as in her view, "one of the most interesting and exciting productions, she had met with." Every family should have a copy. They will have in addition to a volume of most interesting and important matter, in relation to their highest interests, a frontispiece-engraving, exhibiting good likenesses of the heads, in a most admirable group, of Andrew Jackson, Martin Van Buren, John Tyler, Bishop Onderdonk, and Bishop Hughes; which, alone, to persons of intelligence and taste, who have never seen those personages, will be worth more to keep to look at, than the cost of the volume, viz., $1 50.

ONE MORE.—Said a "Down East" Editor, "We take this work, as designed for an effectual cure of the popular diseases (errors) of the day."

Another says "The Author of this Work has hit upon the right characters."

