*But Friendship is a nobler thing,—
Of Friendship it is good to sing.
For, truly, when a man shall end,
He lives in memory of his friend.*

THESE papers were selected from Miss Thompson's notes for her "hours," talks on literature given in and about Boston for the last twenty years of her life, and which had come to be, from her large and permanently devoted audiences, one of the instituted charms of culture in the city.

A skilled working love for books is too valuable an influence to let die.
