Charter of the City of Mount Vernon.

CHAPTER 182, LAWS 1892.

AN ACT to incorporate the City of Mount Vernon.
Approved by the Governor March 22, 1892. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

TITLE I.

Of the boundaries and civil divisions.

Section 1. All that district of country in the town of Eastchester, in the County of Westchester and State of New York, comprised within the following boundaries, namely: Commencing at a point in the centre of Bronx River, at the intersection thereof with the northerly boundary line of the present incorporated village of South Mount Vernon; running thence generally in an easterly direction along the northerly boundary line of the said incorporated village of South Mount Vernon to Eleventh Avenue and Bronx Place therein; thence southerly along the westerly side of Eleventh Avenue to Mundy Lane; thence southerly along the westerly side of Mundy Lane to the Kings Bridge Road; thence due south to a continuation of the northern boundary line of New York City; thence easterly along said continuation of the northerly boundary line of the City of New York to Hutchinson River or Creek; thence northerly along the centre line of said Hutchinson River or Creek as the same turns and winds to a point as far north as the northernmost point in the town of Pelham in said County of Westchester; thence westerly along a line extending across the town of East Chester parallel with the said northern boundary line of New York City; thence southerly along the centre of the Bronx River as the same turns and winds to the point or
