NATIONAL SERIES OF AMERICAN HISTORIES.

BY REV. JOSEPH BANVARD.

The attention of the public is invited to the following notices of BANVARD'S HISTORIES. They contain a vast fund of just that kind of information, presented in a style possessing all the attractiveness and charm of romance, which every American, whether old or young, should possess.

PLYMOUTH AND THE PILGRIMS;

Or, Incidents of Adventures in the History of the First Settlers.

With Illustrations. 16mo, cloth, 60 cts.

MR. BANVARD has wrought a good work in collecting, arranging, and presenting in so graphic and agreeable a manner the leading incidents of an event which will ever wake to quicken while the "Pilgrim Rock" tells its story, or a drop of pilgrim blood warms the veins of a descendant. — Bangor Mercury.

The book, when once taken up, will not be laid down until finished. — Boston Cour.

An interesting volume. The incidents are well chosen, and are described in that direct, simple, and sprightly manner, for which Mr. Banvard is so justly esteemed, and which eminently qualifies him to be a writer for the young. — Am. Traveller.

It is written in a terse and vigorous style, and is well adapted for popular reading, and particularly to entertain and instruct the youthful mind. — Mercantile Journal.

Every New Englander should own this book. — Scientific American.

This is a beautifully executed and extremely interesting volume. It is written in a plain, but vigorous style, particularly adapted to the young, though it may be read with interest by the older ones. — C. K. Freeman.

Highly attractive in style and instructive in matter, and well calculated to engage the attention of young persons. — N. Y. Com. Ad.

MR. BANVARD has here produced a work that will be read with pleasure and instruction by every one. The style is clear and forcible, and his manner of weaving incidents and character, and giving position to historical events, felicitous. — Dev.

This book we predict will be, ere long, at the fireside of every descendant of the Pilgrims in New England. — Commonwealth.

It is written in a pleasing style, abounding in incident, anecdote, and fact. The author has shelled the grain from the dry husk, and so spread a feast better adapted to the tastes and requirements of the young. — Bowler.

This book will be read with peculiar interest by all who would learn the causes which gave to our country its peculiar religious and political character. — Caldwell.

There is no work on American history of the same size which affords an equal amount of information. — Char. of Eng.

It reminds us much of that admirable historical series for the young, Sir Walter Scott's Tales of a Grandfather. — C. K. Register.

Treated with the talent and skill for which Mr. Banvard has become noted, as a descriptive and popular writer. — Watchman and Reflector.

Few works will have a greater run, especially with youth. Many thrilling facts are either brought to light for the first time from musty records, or from tomes inaccessible to the public generally. — Journal and Messenger.

It is full of interest, abounding with vivid illustrations of fearless courage, enduring fortitude, ingenious strategy, and romantic adventure. It will find its way into every family. — Wells's Home Journal.

NOVELTIES OF THE NEW WORLD;
AN ACCOUNT OF THE ADVENTURES AND DIS-COVERIES OF THE FIRST EXPLORERS OF NORTH AMERICA. By REV. JOSEPH BANVARD, author of "Plymouth and the Pilgrims," etc.
Being the second volume of BANVARD'S SERIES OF AMERICAN HIS-TORIES. With numerous Illustrations. 16mo, cloth, 60 cts.

IF MR. BANVARD completes the series as he has begun, he will supply an important desideratum for the young - a series of books which will serve as valuable introductions and enticements to more extended historical reading. The plan of the author is to seize on the prominent and interesting points in the history of our country, and present them in a continuous and sprightly narrative. - Am. Traveller.

We have seen the boys bend over these pages, unwilling to leave them, either for play or sleep; and when finished, inquiring anxiously when the next would come. - Watchman and Reflector.

It has all the interest of a romance. - Portland Transcript.

Written in a felicitous style, which is neither too childish for adults, nor yet too difficult of comprehension for children, they will delight and instruct. - Journal.

Some of the most interesting scenes and events in the New World are here brought together and invested with a charm that is irresistible by old or young. - Ch. Intell.

The subject is handled in a masterly manner. - Miss Herald.

This is a lively and entertaining history of some of the most romantic and important events in the early times of European explorations of America. - Commonwealth.

MR. BANVARD has much of that talent, so rare and valuable, which enables its possessor to interest and instruct the young. We are glad to see the romantic stories of our colonial times disinterred and reproduced from the ponderous volumes in which they have been buried, and brought forward in a form adapted to the taste and capacity of the youthful reader. - N. Y. Recorder.

It contains strange adventures filled with romance. The volume has also some fourteen good illustrations. - Express.

The extraordinary hardships and thrilling incidents connected with the history of the early explorers, together with the charm which Mr. Banvard has thrown around it by his popular style of writing, renders it exceedingly interesting. - Ch. Sec.

A very pleasant, instructive, and interesting book is this. The historical incidents, sketches of character, national customs, and amusing anecdotes told in it, give it a charm which even the grave scholar will acknowledge and approve. - Patriot.

The style is very agreeable, and his selection of the most remarkable incidents very happy and judicious, and well calculated to improve the mind. - Sci. American.

Much that is fresh for the reader, imparted with tact and spirit. - Home Journal.

How "novel" was the "New World" when examined by the first explorers, and Mr. Banvard has gone over the ground in so charming a manner that he seems to have brought the scenes down to our own experience. Every page is scarcely less interesting. - East Boston Gazette.

The book only needs to be known to command readers. - Watchman of Prairie.

The popularity of the author, and the admirable productions of his pen, already so widely circulated, are a sufficient pledge that any thing from him will be found to possess sterling merit and worth. - Transcript.

MR. BANVARD has hit upon a happy idea in this series of publications, and will no doubt find a full sanction in the public patronage. - Zion's Herald.

The author possesses the art of making simple truth far more interesting than the wisdom of fables. - Express. (2)

ROMANCE OF AMERICAN HISTORY; OR, AN ACCOUNT OF THE EARLY SETTLEMENT of North Carolina and Virginia, embracing a Narrative of the tragic Incidents connected with the Spanish Settlement at St. Augustine, the French Colonies at Roanoke, and the English Plantation at Jamestown; the Captivity of Captain John Smith, and the interesting Adventures of the youthful Pocahontas. By REV. JOSEPH BANVARD.
Being the third volume of BANVARD'S SERIES OF AMERICAN HISTO-RIES. With numerous Illustrations. 16mo, cloth, 60 cts.

This is the third volume of Mr. Banvard's attractive series of books founded on the early history of our country; and it will make a most valuable addition to all family and school libraries. — Arthur's Gazette.

It has all the interest of romance and the additional interest of history. — Par. Rec.

It is a volume just such as we like to see in the hands of intelligent youth, and just such as intelligent youth like to have given them. It shows that there were times that tried men's souls "long before the day of the Revolution." It unfolds the dangers that were passed, the trials endured, the labors undergone in order to wrest from savage men and a savage wilderness this fair and wide domain which we now enjoy. — Willis's Home Journal.

As interesting as a novel, and a thousand times more profitable. — Lit. Messenger.

Every library should contain this National Series of Histories. — N. E. Farmer.

Admirably fitted for fireside, family reading. Its style is clear and simple. its succession of events happily chosen. — Am. Traveller.

No man has a better taste than Mr. Banvard for such a work. If any person can read his books without rising from the perusal of them with stronger love for the history of his country, he must be different from ordinary men. — Hutch. of Trenton.

No more instructive reading can be put into the hands of the young. — Port. Trav.

It is difficult to say whether the entertaining or instructive predominates. — Argus.

It is just the book to interest young persons. It combines the interest of romance with the value of truth. — Zion's Herald.

MR. BANVARD has chosen a most entertaining theme for the labors of his graceful and facile pen. The earlier history of the peopling of the American continent by the Europeans is full of romantic and thrilling incident. It is a book for the aged, the middle aged, and the young; a book for our youths and maidens; a book to render us thankful for the virtues and heroism of our fathers, and for the blessings their sufferings and labors have entailed upon us. — Democratic Press.

MR. BANVARD'S series of books upon the early history of America are full of fascinating interest. — Republican.

The incidents are curious and deeply interesting. It is truly the romance of history. — Religious Herald.

A book of deep and thrilling interest, containing many interesting historical sketches of scenes that are not familiar to the young reader. — CA. Secretary.

This is a very interesting work. The personal incidents it records will be gratifying to the curious. — CA. Observer.

Other volumes of this popular series are in course of preparation. The series will embrace the most interesting and important events which have occurred in the United States since the settlement of the country. They will be adapted to the popular mind, and especially to the youth of our country, and will contain numerous fine engravings. There will be twelve or more 16mo volumes, of about 200 pages.
Each volume to be complete in itself; and yet, when all are published, they will together form a regular SERIES OF AMERICAN HISTORIES. (c)

VALUABLE WORK.

CYCLOPÆDIA OF ANECDOTES OF LITERATURE AND THE FINE ARTS. Containing a copious and choice selection of Anecdotes of the various forms of Literature, of the Arts, of Architecture, Engravings, Music, Poetry, Painting, and Sculpture, and of the most celebrated Literary Characters and Artists of different Countries and Ages, &c. By KAZLITT ARVINE, A. M., Author of "Cyclopædia of Moral and Religious Anecdotes." With illustrations. 795 pages octavo, cloth, 3.00.

This is unquestionably the choicest collection of anecdotes ever published. It contains three thousand and fifty anecdotes, and such is the wonderful variety, that it will be found an almost inexhaustible fund of interest for every class of readers; and to public speakers, to all classes of literary and scientific men, to artists, mechanics, and others, a perfect DICTIONARY, for reference. There are also more than one hundred and fifty fine illustrations.

We know of no work which comprises so much valuable information in a form so entertaining. — N. Y. Chronicle.

Here is a perfect repository of the most choice and approved specimens of this species of information. The work is replete with such entertainment as is adapted to all grades of readers, the most or least intellectual. — Methodist Quarterly Magazine.

One of the most complete things of the kind ever given to the public. There is scarcely a paragraph in the whole book which will not interest some one deeply; for, while men of letters, argument, and art cannot afford to do without its immense fund of sound maxims, pungent wit, apt illustrations, and brilliant examples, the merchant, mechanic and laborer will find it one of the choicest companions of the hours of relaxation. "Whatever be the mood of one's mind, and however limited the time for reading, is the almost endless variety and great brevity of the articles he can find something to suit his feelings, which he can begin and end at once. It may also be made the very life of the social circle, containing pleasant reading for all ages, at all times and seasons. — Duquesne Com. Advertiser.

A well spring of entertainment, to be drawn from at any moment. — Danvers Whip.

A magnificent collection of anecdotes touching literature and the fine arts. — Albany Spectator.

The most comprehensive collection of anecdotes ever published. — Salem Gazette.

A publication of which there is little danger of speaking in too flattering terms; a perfect Thesaurus of rare and curious information, carefully selected and methodically arranged. A jewel of a book to lie on one's table, to snatch up in those brief moments of leisure that could not be very profitably turned to account by recourse to any connected work in any department of literature. — Troy Budget.

No family ought to be without it, for it is at once cheap, valuable, and very interesting; containing matter compiled from all kinds of books, from all quarters of the globe, from all ages of the world, and in relation to every corporeal matter at all worthy of being remarked or remembered. — New Jersey Union.

A rich treasury of thought, and wit, and learning, illustrating the characteristics and peculiarities of many of the most distinguished names in history. — Phil. Chris. Ob.

The range of topics is very wide, relating to nature, religion, science, and art; furnishing apposite illustrations for the preacher, the orator, the Sabbath school teacher, and the instructor of our common schools, academies, and colleges. It is a valuable work for the fireside, calculated to please and edify all classes. — Zanesville Ch. Rev.

This is one of the most entertaining works for desultory reading we have seen. We hardly know of any thing at once so instructive and amusing. — N. Y. Ch. Intel.
