This story of the life and death of CECIL HOPKINSON is given to his friends by his mother, and others who specially cared for him.

They desire to express here their gratitude for the help they have received from Sir A. W. Ward, Master of Peterhouse, and Mr J. B. Peace, Printer to the University.

Hark, the roar grows . . . the thunders reawaken—
We ask one thing, Lord, only one thing now:
Hearts high as theirs, who went to death unshaken,
Courage like theirs to make and keep their vow.

R. E. VERNÈDE.
