PREFACE.

The seven essays in the present volume are all that I care to preserve (apart from "Biographical Sketches" already published in similar form) of my contributions to various Periodicals for some years past. I recognize that in addition to their own inherent defects, of which none can be more aware than I, they have no such link each with the other as had the parts of the previous volume; though to myself there appears a spiritual affinity in most of them, in that they were the outcome of doubts and difficulties now at rest. It has seemed right, however few the matter may concern, that since the record of inward strife was given to the world, the same essays should be published with trifling necessary changes showing that the strife is over, and with the intimation that if I have been in error in what I have said concerning any of the Church's doctrines, I submit in this, as in all things, to her teaching.

I have to thank the Editors and Proprietors of the Nineteenth Century, the Fortnightly, Theological, British Quarterly, and Century Guild Hobby Horse Reviews, and the Guardian Newspaper for permission to reprint the substance of the book.
