The Imperial Parliament Series.

EDITED BY SYDNEY BUXTON, M.P.

(Author of "Handbook to Political Questions," etc.).

THE intention of this Series is to place within reach of the general public, at a very cheap rate, short volumes dealing with those topics of the day which lie within the range of practical politics.

Notwithstanding the constantly increasing demand for political literature, to enable electors and others to follow the argument in connection with particular reforms, there are no easily obtainable and permanent text-books to which they can refer, the advocates of these reforms confining themselves, as a rule, to pamphlets, magazine articles, and speeches, or else discussing their subject in a form beyond the reach of the masses.

It is hoped that these little volumes, being written in a judicial spirit—and, though advocating each its own proposal, as far as possible, free from party bias or polemical controversy—may be recognized as authoritative, and, being published in a permanent form, may be less evanescent than ordinary political writings, and be thus of real value. The Series, though "political," is not "Party."

The volumes are written by politicians who are recognized as authorities on the subjects of which they treat. Each volume is complete in itself, and the writers alone are responsible for the opinions they may express.

The Series comes into competition with no existing publication. The valuable "English Citizen" Series details the rights and responsibilities of citizens as they exist at present; it speaks of things as they are—this Series deals with them as reformers think they should be.

The following Volumes are already published:—

1. THE MARQUIS OF LORNE.
"IMPERIAL FEDERATION."
2. SIR JOHN LUBBOCK, BART., M.P.
"REPRESENTATION."
3. WM. RATHBONE, M.P. }

VOL. I.

IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

By the Rt. Hon.

THE MARQUIS OF LORNE,

P.C., K.T., G.C.M.G., Late Governor-General of Canada.

TIMES, May 18, 1885.—". . . At this moment Lord Lorne intervenes especially opportunely with his contribution of a volume on the subject (of Imperial Federation) to Mr. Sydney Buxton's 'Imperial Parliament Series.'"

PALL MALL GAZETTE, May 19.—"Lord Lorne's treatise on Imperial Federation is sensible and to the point. . . . The little book is full of topics for thought. It deals with one of the most important questions of future politics, and we cordially welcome its appearance at the head of a series that we hope will be a widely circulated political library for the people."

VOL. II.

REPRESENTATION.

By

SIR JOHN LUBBOCK, BART., M.P.

PALL MALL GAZETTE, July 24, 1885.—"The volume is a welcome contribution to a much debated question."

LIVERPOOL MERCURY, July 23.—"The volume is written in a calm, judicial spirit, and although warmly advocating its particular proposal, may be said to be entirely free from party bias. It well deserves the wide circulation it has already attained."

VOL. III.

LOCAL ADMINISTRATION.

By

WM. RATHBONE, M.P., ALBERT PELL, M.P.,

AND

F. C. MONTAGU, M.A.

DAILY NEWS, August 17, 1885.—". . . The authors have grappled with this complicated question most skilfully, with the result that they have produced a little book of some 150 pages in which a vast amount of information on the whole subject of local administration and local taxation is presented in a most readable form. . . ."

ECHO, August 11.—"To those who desire to inform themselves on the question (of Local Government) we would heartily commend the shilling volume of the 'Imperial Parliament Series' just issued. . . . The work is a marvel of condensation."

VOL. IV.

ENGLAND AND RUSSIA IN ASIA.

By the Rt. Hon.

W. E. BAXTER, M.P.

ECHO, October 7, 1885.—"No calmer, more temperate, or more judicious pages have ever been written on the subject."

NONCONFORMIST, October 29.—"Those electors who study this able summary can hardly fail to be convinced by the reasonableness of the appeals with which it concludes."

VOL. V.

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE.

By

MRS. ASHTON DILKE AND WM. WOODALL, M.P.

DAILY NEWS, October 8, 1885.—“Appearing as it does on the eve of a general election, and written with conciseness and argumentative force, the little work is one that cannot fail to prove a timely addition to the political literature of the day.”

LIVERPOOL DAILY POST, October 14, 1885.—“The case for extending the franchise to duly qualified females could not be put more concisely, or with more discriminating zeal, than by these two well-known champions of the cause; and it is an advantage to have available in compact and collected form the arguments in favour of a claim which will continue to be urged as a still unsettled question of Parliamentary reform.”

{Second Edition.

W. S. CAINE, M.P., WM. HOYLE, F.S.S.,

AND

REV. DAWSON BURNS, D.D.

ALLIANCE NEWS, October, 31, 1885.—“This handbook supplies a much felt want in connection with temperance electoral work. The various committees throughout the country should see that every candidate for parliamentary honours is at once put in possession of this brief and clear exposition of the question of Local Option.”

CHRISTIAN WORLD, November, 5.—“Nothing could be more opportune than the appearance of these excellent little manuals at the present time.”
