PREFACE

ONE of the objects which the committee of the Milton Historical Society who are responsible for this outline have had in mind is to supply our school teachers with a convenient basis for the study of the history of our town and of its political, social and industrial conditions, so that when the children become men and women they may more earnestly and wisely strive for the welfare of their town and hence of their country. But it is hoped that the usefulness of the outline will reach further than the schools and that it will be for the community not only such a stimulus to patriotism as the study of history should always be, but also a helpful guide to fertile and interesting fields of knowledge.

The committee wish to acknowledge with gratitude their debt to the Brookline Education Society, whose Guide to the Local History of Brookline has been to them both an incitement and a model, and to the Milton Public Library for valuable assistance in preparing the work for the printer.

ANDREW HENSHAW WARD,
 FLORENCE G. HOUGHTON,
 ELEANOR P. MARTIN,
 MARY RIVERS,
 ASHER J. JACOBY,
