CHAPTER I

HOW TWO FAIRIES TOOK A FLAT

NOBODY in Fairyland quite knew how old Grandmamma Silverlocks was. But she must have been very old indeed, because she had once been a witch who went into the best mortal society, and changed pretty princesses into white does and handsome young princes into monsters. Fairies, of course, never grow old, but witches are born old.

Grandmamma Silverlocks left off being wicked a long time ago. When the fairies assembled in congress and decided that they would never again take part in the everyday affairs of human beings, that spells and enchantments should cease to be fairy practices, and that any inhabitant leaving Fairyland on any excuse whatever should
