SCIENCE AND THE NATION. Essays by Cambridge Graduates. Edited by A. C. SEWARD, M.A., F.R.S. With an Introduction by the Right Hon. LORD MOULTON, K.C.B., F.R.S. Crown 8vo. 5s. net.

"In essay after essay we have a recital of the achievements of science in its various branches, and it is brought home to us in the most convincing manner how the great discoveries and inventions have all been rendered possible and are all the outcome of a 'steady pursuit of knowledge by rational and intelligent research.'"—The New Statesman

CAMBRIDGE ESSAYS ON EDUCATION. By various writers. Edited by A. C. BENSON, C.V.O., LL.D. With an Introduction by VISCOUNT BRYCE, O.M. Demy 8vo. 8s. net.

"This important collection of essays on education strikes the right note at the right moment. It is an appeal, from the most diverse minds, to the nation to make education in the noblest sense a national possession."—The Times

A SHORT HISTORY OF EDUCATION. By J. W. ADAMSON. Demy 8vo. 12s. 6d. net.

"In the careful detailed work of the latter part of this book where great masters of material, English and foreign, are collated and brought into perspective, he has given the student rich food for thought and has shown the processes by which we have reached the educational position of to-day."—The Times

EDUCATION IN THE NINETEENTH CENTURY. Lectures delivered at the Cambridge Summer Meeting, 1900. Edited by R. D. ROBERTS, M.A., D.S.C. Crown 8vo. 4s. net.

"We must congratulate the editor on the issue of a volume of addresses of so rich and varied a nature, and of such solid value to those interested in education."—The Schoolmaster

DEDICATION

TO THE MASTER OF BALLIOL

DEAR MASTER OF BALLIOL,

In asking you to accept the dedication of this volume of Essays on Adult Education, the contributors have not only had in view the privilege of associating your name with their effort, but have also desired to express their high appreciation of the great services which you have rendered to the cause whose interests they hope to advance, and to record their gratitude for the inspiration which your example and devoted labours have ministered to all who have this cause at heart.

It is a happy omen for the success of the cause and the friendly co-operation of our two Universities that we are allowed to associate the name of so distinguished a member of Oxford University with a volume which appears under the auspices of the Cambridge Press.

I am,

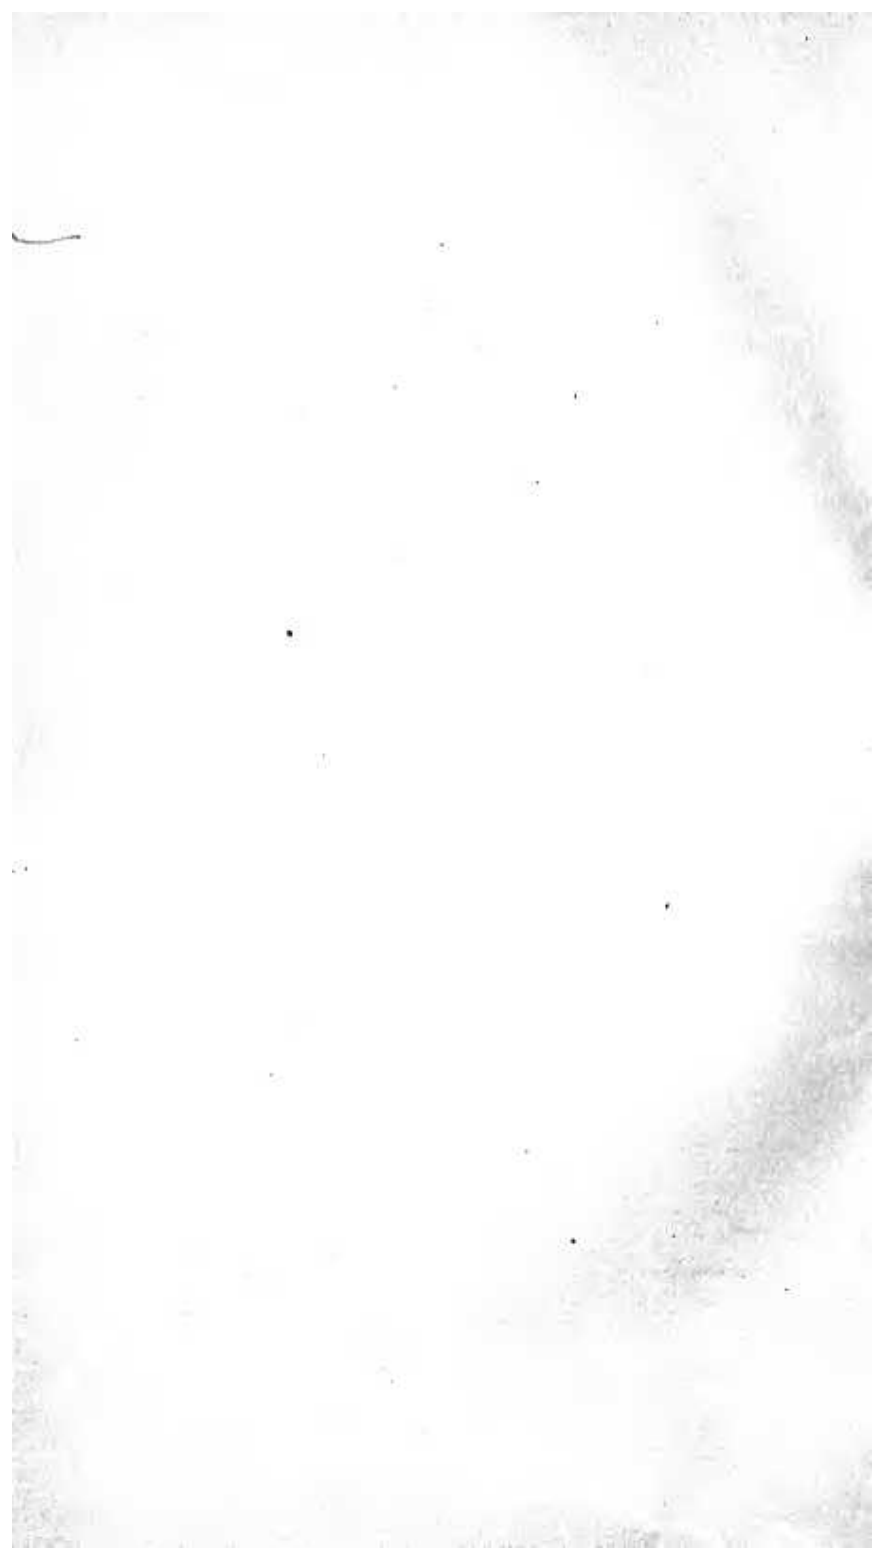

dear Master of Balliol,
most sincerely yours,

THE EDITOR.
