

THE REPUBLIC OF GOD: AN INSTITUTE OF THEOLOGY

Published @ 2017 Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd

ISBN 9780649389520

The republic of God: an institute of theology by Elisha Mulford

Except for use in any review, the reproduction or utilisation of this work in whole or in part in any form by any electronic, mechanical or other means, now known or hereafter invented, including xerography, photocopying and recording, or in any information storage or retrieval system, is forbidden without the permission of the publisher, Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd, PO Box 1576 Collingwood, Victoria 3066 Australia.

All rights reserved.

Edited by Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd.
Cover @ 2017

This book is sold subject to the condition that it shall not, by way of trade or otherwise, be lent, re-sold, hired out, or otherwise circulated without the publisher's prior consent in any form or binding or cover other than that in which it is published and without a similar condition including this condition being imposed on the subsequent purchaser.

www.triestepublishing.com

ELISHA MULFORD

THE REPUBLIC OF
GOD: AN INSTITUTE OF THEOLOGY

BY THE SAME AUTHOR.

THE NATION.

The Foundations of Civil Order and Political Life in the United States. By ELISHA MULFORD, LL. D. 1 vol. crown 8vo, $2.50.

From HON. JAMES A. GARFIELD, President of the United States.

It is a very able discussion of what is to me one of the most important branches of political philosophy. Every page I have read surprises me with the extent and thoroughness of the author's study, and the freshness and vigor of his discussion.

From HON. WAYNE MACVEIGH, Attorney General of the United States.

It is so complete in its argument, moves so steadily to its own high end, and is so novel in American literature, for its wealth of political knowledge.

From HON. CHARLES SUMNER.

I have read "The Nation" from the first to the last with constant interest and sympathy. It is a most important contribution to our political literature, and cannot fail to strengthen and elevate our national life.

In a letter to Dr. Francis Lieber Mr. Sumner said: "If you write to Mr. Mulford let him know that I am one of his pupils."

From JAMES B. ANGELL, President of the University of Michigan, and recently Minister to China.

It is the most valuable contribution to political philosophy which has been written in the English language in this generation. Its hearty recognition of the moral element in the national life carries us back to the good old times of Hooker and Milton.

From J. L. DIMAN, late Professor of History in Brown University.

Mr. Mulford's "The Nation" is not only by far the most profound and exhaustive study in the field of speculative politics that American scholarship has yet produced, but we shall be obliged to go very far back in the literary annals of our mother country to find anything worthy of comparison with it.

From F. D. MAURICE, late Professor of Moral Philosophy, Cambridge University, England.

The bracing effect of your late contest for freedom is manifest in its protest against commercial theories and pale abstractions which are wearing at the life of England.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO., PUBLISHERS, BOSTON, MASS.

ed. 1885.

1885

THE REPUBLIC OF GOD.

An Institute of Theology.

BY ELISHA MULFORD, LL. D.

FIFTH THOUSAND, REVISED.

BOSTON AND NEW YORK:
HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN AND COMPANY.
The Riverside Press, Cambridge.
1893.

Copyright, 1881,
By ELISHA MULFORD.

All rights reserved.

231
M

TO MY CHILDREN.

1844

1844

120

CONTENTS.

CHAPTER I.

	PAGE
THE BEING OF GOD	1
The consciousness of God.
1. The ontological argument.
The manifestation of God.
The name of God.
The knowledge of God through experience.
2. The cosmological argument.
Causality.
3. The teleological argument.
The imperfection of the physical process.
The strife in nature.
The reconciliation.
Necessity is not inconsistent with freedom.
Freedom is not manifested in necessity.
The enduring element in religion and philosophy.
4. The moral argument.
Righteousness and freedom.

CHAPTER II.

THE PERSONALITY OF GOD	21
Personality, the highest attainment of man.
1. The relation of the personality of man to the personality of God.
The foundation of the personality of man in the personality of God.
The knowledge of personality.
Personality the central principle of the world.

2. The attributes of God.
 The personality of God, the ground of the knowledge of God.
 The person of God and the scheme of divinity.

CHAPTER III.

THE PRECEDENT RELATIONS OF RELIGION AND PHILOSOPHY TO THE REVELATION OF GOD 40

1. Definition of religion.
 The nature and end of religion.
 The history of religion.
 The influence of physical conditions on the growth of religion.
 Correlation of religion and philosophy.
 Conflict between religion and philosophy.
2. Definition of philosophy.
 The relative influence of religion and philosophy on the ethical life of man.
3. The revelation of Christ is not a religion nor a philosophy.
 The Christ does not come as the founder of a religion.
 The Old Testament is not the record of a religion.
 The preface to the Commandments.
 The Commandments.
 The New Testament is not the record of a religion.
 The Christ was not the founder of a sect of Christians.
 The conflict of the revelation of the Christ with the pagan religions.
 The goal of religion and philosophy.

CHAPTER IV.

THE REVELATION OF GOD 81

- This revelation is from God, but primarily it is of God.
 The divine self revelation.
 The revelation for another.
 The revelation of and through and to a person.
 The revelation through Sonship.
 The knowledge of God.
 Revelation and science.
 The correspondence between discovery in the physical process and revelation in the spiritual life.

This revelation alone can satisfy humanity.
The mysteries which become the subject of knowledge.
Revelation is light.
Revelation is through relations.
This revelation is not spectacular.
The revelation to faith and reason and conscience.

PAGE

CHAPTER V.

THE REVELATION OF GOD IN THE CHRIST . . . 101

The revelation in a person.
The revelation which is not external to God, nor external to man.
There is in the Christ:—
 (a.) The consciousness in the world of perfect unity with God.
 (b.) The consciousness in the world of perfect unity with man.
The manifestation of God in a person.
The manifestation of God in a person; always in relations.
The realization of the freedom of man is in relations with God.
The record in the Evangelists of the coming of the Son of man.
Jesus of Nazareth and the Christ of history.
The biographical life of Jesus.
An apologetic notice of recent theories:—
 (a.) That Jesus came, through a religious disposition and reflection, to adopt the idea of the Christ.
 (b.) That Jesus did not recognize a system of economy, nor the culture of art.
 (c.) That Jesus conceived an ethical aim, as the enthusiasm for humanity.
The Incarnation as physical, and as ethical, and as formative of the perfect and perfected life of humanity.
The Christ, the head of the human race.
The Trinity.
The coming of the Spirit.