FROM THE TRAVELER'S NOTE-BOOK

The Friendly Heart

The Lord is my shepherd,
I shall not want. (Psalm 100)
He maketh me to lie down in green
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul: (His paths lead me) unto
He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness—yea, though I walk through the valley of the
I will fear no evil: (The shadow of death)
For thou art with me;
Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou hast prepared a table before me
In the presence of mine enemies.
Thou hast anointed my head with oil;
Thy cup runneth over
Thy goodness and mercy shall follow me
all the days of my life.
And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

From the blooms that border Biwa
To the tombs along the Nile;
From the snows along the Yukon
To the Thames in Britain's isle;
From the ghats along the Ganges
To the brig o'er bonnie Doon—
We have traveled far together
In the ships of Night and Noon.
To my wife who journeyed with me
To the wide ends of the earth,
My travel-chum, my de-luxe pal,
This tale, whate'er its worth.
