PREFATORY REMARK.

SOME of the passages in several of the quotations, are altered by me, to adapt them to the purpose of the reference: the words I have so substituted are in each instance placed between single inverted commas.

AUTHOR'S ERRATA.

In the manuscript furnished to the printer, the words possessed, expressed, &c., were written possest, exprest, &c; and the author did not intimate to the printer to adopt the first and common mode of spelling them till the work was being printed, so that it was too late to make the orthographic correction in all instances. Likewise, the diphthong æ is omitted in some places in Encyclopædia, Cyclopædia, and primæval.
