INTRODUCTION.

Three editions of this compilation have been issued —1877, 1883, 1887 — and a brief reference to the past is of interest. In 1877 not a single city had a 4 per cent loan, while few outside of Massachusetts could borrow better than 6 per cent, and a large number then had loans out at 7, 8, 9, and 10 per cent. In 1878-74 it was not an easy matter to negotiate a loan of Boston 6 per cents at par; and during those years such bonds sold as low as 96. In 1883 a few cities had been able to place 4 per cent loans, but these were exceptions, and in some cases, out of Massachusetts, made free of municipal tax to home investors.

Coming to 1887, we find a change at once remarkable, with first-class cities borrowing on 3\frac{1}{4} per cent bonds at a considerable premium and the outstanding bonds of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts selling on a basis of 2\frac{1}{4} per cent per annum.

The City of Boston borrowed February, 1887, on a 3½ per cent registered bond, 50 years to run, at 11.52 per cent premium, which was considered a great success. This loan was subject to tax to the individual holder as are all city bonds in Massachusetts. The Water Loan of a Massachusetts city does not count against it in estimating the percentage of debt to valuation, water loans being generally self-sustaining. Cities and Towns in various parts of the country, little heard of financially herstofore, came into the market and successfully negotiated loans at 5 and 4 per cent.

There are 58 Cities in New England; Maine has fourteen; New Hampshire, six; Vermont, two (Burlington and Vergennes); Massachusette, twenty-three; Rhode Island, three (Newport, Pawtucket, and Providence); and Connecticut, ten, — statements from nearly all of which are included in these pages, besides more than 60 other leading cities of the country and twenty-four principal States. The lowest State loan is that of Connecticut, with $1,740,000 at 3 per cent. The lowest City loans are at 3 per cent by Boston, Brooklyn, and New York, of which the latter two are free of municipal tax to home investors.

The statements, which are mainly brought up to Jan. 2, 1887, and some even later, are oppositely. And in nearly every instance carefully revised by the respective Treasurers or Auditors. To the officers of the great majority of the municipalities, who promptly and cheerfully aided the compiler in the somewhat arduous labor of gathering the facts in this book, frequently requiring much personal labor, our thanks are heartily extended. A number of cities, however, (whose names are included,) after repeated requests, failed to furnish a statement of their financial condition, for reasons best known to themselves, and it is to be regretted that one in Massachusetts is included in that number.

*This is a 5-20 lean, and was redeemable, at the option of the State, after Sept. 1, 1831; now in Slaking Fund.

(a) Siterling leans are reduced to currency at 64.8965 to the £, and the footing includes $6,000 due in 1885, but not presented.

(b) In addition to the Situiting Fund gives at coat, the "market value in excess "amounts to $700,000, and there are other assets estimated as $1,050,000, making a total of $30,714,413.

(g) Payable in gold, principal and interest.

(g) Payable in pold, principal and interest. Coupon bonds are in $500 and $1,000 pieces, mainly the latter, and registered $1,000 and upward.

The foan to the Bostom, Hartford, and Eric Railroad of £143. CO ($3,58,720) is not due until 1990; and the sinking fund amounted to $3,197,685.46 Jan. 1, 1987. This at even 4 per cent compound interest would reach the sum of the debt by 1890, and amount, Jan. 1, 1990, to $4,500,000, in round numbers, or nearly $1,800,000 to excess of the principal.

The present funded debt will mature in various instalments each year, as follows:—

The sinking funds amount to $18,864.413, and with the possible acception of the Hoosac Tunnel ionus (in part), the ontire funded debt will be amply provided for at maturity by these funds, and other resources pleaged to them by existing laws. The $532,500 ($3,078,001.50) Troy and Greenfield R.R. lozn, (Hoosac Tunnes), due in 1888, will be paid from the Sinking Fund. The "War Loan" sinking fund is already full. The Massachusetts School Fund amounts to $2,715,444.00.
