FREDERICK CROWN PRINCE AND EMPEROR: A BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH DEDICATED TO HIS MEMORY

Published @ 2017 Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd

ISBN 9780649276578

Frederick crown prince and emperor: a biographical sketch dedicated to his memory by Rennell Rodd

Except for use in any review, the reproduction or utilisation of this work in whole or in part in any form by any electronic, mechanical or other means, now known or hereafter invented, including xerography, photocopying and recording, or in any information storage or retrieval system, is forbidden without the permission of the publisher, Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd, PO Box 1576 Collingwood, Victoria 3066 Australia.

All rights reserved.

Edited by Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd. Cover @ 2017

This book is sold subject to the condition that it shall not, by way of trade or otherwise, be lent, re-sold, hired out, or otherwise circulated without the publisher's prior consent in any form or binding or cover other than that in which it is published and without a similar condition including this condition being imposed on the subsequent purchaser.

www.triestepublishing.com

RENNELL RODD

FREDERICK CROWN PRINCE AND EMPEROR: A BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH DEDICATED TO HIS MEMORY

Frinkillhillmill

FREDERICK

CROWN PRINCE AND EMPEROR

A Biographical Sketch Dedicated to Wis Memory

BY

RENNELL RODD

WITH AN INTRODUCTION BY

HER MAJESTY THE EMPRESS FREDERICK

"He was as full of kindness as of valour, Princely in both,"

DAVID STOTT, 370, OXFORD STREET, W.

CONTENTS.

Introduct		PAGE
Letter	from Her Majesty the Empress Frederick	vii
Preface	Factoria (1997)	xiii
CHAPTER	I. 1831—1848	17
,, 1	I. 1848—1858	35
	I. 1858 1863.,	59
,, T	7. 1864—1869	75
,,	V. 1870—1871	99
,, V	I. 1871—1887	143
,, VI	I. 1888	175
APPENDIX		189

Schloss Friedrichskron,

August 18th, 1888.

DEAR MR. RODD,

I think you are aware that my beloved husband, the late Emperor Frederick, when in England last year, visited the Throat Hospital, and was full of compassion for the patients. His ailment caused at that time but little inconvenience, and his kind heart felt deeply sorry for those who had more to bear from the state of their throats. I had then a great wish to help the Hospital in some way, and had intended to make some little drawings, and collect some pretty and amusing stories to form a small book which could be sold for the benefit of the Hospital funds. Alas! I never found leisure or peace of mind to carry out this plan.

As I have witnessed how much can be done by medical skill and careful nursing to alleviate the condition of those who suffer, I feel doubly anxious that as many as possible of those who have to struggle with sickness should be able to gain admission to a Hospital where they can find care and comforts which they could not have at home, and the best chance of being cured. Now that I have seen the kind and sincere sympathy with which my own countrymen followed the course of my beloved husband's illness, and the true feeling they showed in mourning his loss, I feel emboldened to take up under another form my idea of helping the Hospital. Not my own drawings or writings would I offer, but I ask you to pen a short account of the life of my beloved husband, who was so soon taken away from us. As you knew him in sunny days when he was the picture of life and health, as well as in the last sad year when that life was overshadowed by sickness, I thought none would be better able than you to undertake the task of writing a short biography suitable for popular reading, which may make his name better known to the English Public, and give him a place in their affections beside that of my father, for whom he had so great a love, admiration and veneration, and with whose views and aims he so truly sympathized. I feel sure that the life of a good and noble man must be interesting to all, and that an example so bright and pure can only do good.

Those in humbler walks of life who are denied many of the blessings enjoyed by the rich, to whose lot fall the so-called good things of this world, are often apt to imagine that their burden is the hardest to bear, that