SOME PRESS NOTICES.

From the Times Notice of the Series.

"In these, dainty little volumes, under the able superintendence of Mr. Hueffer, musical authorities of note describe the lives and criticize the master-pieces of 'The Great Musicians,' conveying just such information as is most required, and thereby satisfying a desire which has lately been making itself more and more felt . . . Mr. Hueffer contributing a most valuable study of Wagner's works; Sir Julius Benedict devoting himself with a favourite pupil's attachment to his old master, Carl Maria von Weber; and Mr. H. F. Frost telling well the sad tale of Schubert's brief career. But Italian music in its modern form finds a sympathetic exponent in Mr. Sutherland Edwards, who writes with genial brilliance about 'Rossini and his School;' and an earlier and severer phase will be illustrated by Signor Arrigo Boito's account of the less familiar school of Marcello."

SCHUBERT.

"Able and attractive—decidedly a success."—Tablet.

"It is to be hoped that Mr. Frost's book will, by calling public attention to the great mass of still unpublished music of Schubert, lead to some energetic action with reference to it."—Manchester Examiner.

ROSSINI.

"Mr. Sutherland Edwards has contributed to a series of biographies, publishing under the general editorship of Mr. Francis Hueffer (Samuel Low), a memoir of Rossini and his school, which gives in a skilfully condensed, but withal a very readable form, all the leading facts regarding the life and works of the great master and his disciples. Mr. Edwards's occasional critical observations on the various composers' works, and on the controversies to which many of them give rise, are very pleasantly combined with the biographical narrative. The list of Rossini's works published in the appendix, with the dates of their production, renders a useful service to writers on musical subjects."—Daily News.
