DEDICATION.

The publication of this unpretentious booklet is actuated by the sole desire of placing a fitting souvenir in the hands of the officers and the men by whose side the author endured the hardships and faced the dangers of the campaign—the gallant officers who did their duty with becoming modesty; the brave negro soldiers who neither hesitated at the command to advance, nor faltered at the order to charge, but who, with implicit faith and confidence, followed wherever their white officers led.

Written and compiled with this motive, it is

WITH AFFECTIONATE RESPECT
THAT THESE PAGES
ARE DEDICATED TO
THE MEMORY OF THE GALLANT OFFICER
AND
THE BRAVE MEN
WHO FOLLOWED THE FLAG INTO THAT REALM WHERE
'THE WAR DRUM THROBS NO LONGER,
AND THE BATTLE FLAGS ARE FURLED.'

GENERAL AARON S. DAGGETT, U. S. V., Lieut.-Col., 25th U. S. Infantry, who commanded the Regiment during the campaign.
