EXTRACT
FROM THE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT
OF THE LATE
REV. JOHN BAMPTON,
CANON OF SALISBURY.

" . . . I give and bequeath my Lands and Estates to the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxford for ever, to have and to hold all and singular the said Lands or Estates upon trust, and to the intents and purposes hereinafter mentioned: that is to say, I will and appoint that the Vice-Chancellor of the University of Oxford for the time being shall take and receive all the rents, issues, and profits thereof; and (after all taxes, reparations, and necessary deductions made) that he pay all the remainder to the endowment of eight Divinity Lecture Sermons, to be established for ever in the said University, and to be performed in the manner following:

" I direct and appoint, that, upon the first Tuesday in Easter Term, a Lecturer be yearly chosen by the Heals of Colleges only, and by no others, in the room adjoining to the Printing-House, between the hours of ten in the morning and two in the afternoon, to preach eight Divinity Lecture Sermons, the year following, at St. Mary's in Oxford, between the commencement of the last month in Lent Term, and the end of the third week in Act Term.

" Also I direct and appoint, that the eight Divinity Lecture Sermons shall be preached upon either of the following Subjects—^{to} to confirm and establish the Christian Faith, and to confute all heretics.

and schismatics—upon the divine authority of the holy Scriptures—upon the authority of the writings of the primitive Fathers, as to the faith and practice of the primitive Church—upon the Divinity of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ—upon the Divinity of the Holy Ghost—upon the Articles of the Christian Faith, as comprehended in the Apostles' and Nicene Creeds.

"Also I direct, that thirty copies of the eight Divinity Lecture Sermons shall be always printed, within two months after they are preached; and one copy shall be given to the Chancellor of the University, and one copy to the Head of every College, and one copy to the Mayor of the city of Oxford, and one copy to be put into the Bodleian Library; and the expense of printing them shall be paid out of the revenue of the Land or Estates given for establishing the Divinity Lecture Sermons; and the Preacher shall not be paid, nor be entitled to the revenue, before they are printed.

"Also I direct and appoint, that no person shall be qualified to preach the Divinity Lecture Sermons, unless he hath taken the degree of Master of Arts at least, in one of the two Universities of Oxford or Cambridge; and that the same person shall never preach the Divinity Lecture Sermons twice."

LECTURE I.

INTRODUCTION.

	PAGE
St. Paul's life broken in two by his conversion	1
Hence, his ideals take an antithetical form	*
The letter and the spirit proposed as the subject of these lectures	3
St. Paul's use of the terms	4
Contains the germs of the later development	8
Their use by the Greek Fathers	11
The modern use	13
Contrast between the outward and the inward—the form and the essence	14
The letter and the spirit in the Church	16
University	20

LECTURE II.

THE LETTER AND THE SPIRIT IN SCRIPTURE EXEGESIS.

St. Paul did not contemplate the Christian faith as dependent on written documents	25
Human language must act as a limitation to the free Spirit	26
Hence, sacred Books cannot express fully the mind of the Spirit	27
The Old Covenant a dispensation of the letter. Yet the Spirit spake by the prophets	27

The Jewish view of the sacred Books. How it affected the Christian view	28
The Church inherited the traditions of Judaism. The two canons gradually merged into one	29
The Christian Scriptures regarded with the same reverence as the Jewish.	31
The view of the mediæval Church	32
The Reformation tended to produce stricter views of inspiration	33
Tendency of modern views to give less prominence to the Old Testament	34
Instances of Messianic prophecies	37
The allegorical interpretation of Scripture. Professing to be spiritual, it becomes a caricature of the letter	39
True use of the Old Testament	40

LECTURE III.

THE LETTER AND THE SPIRIT IN SCRIPTURE EXEGESIS. [continued]

The canon of Scripture grew up in an informal way	51
Variety in the Bible as contrasted with the Koran	53
The Bible the writing of inspired men. What this implies	55
Inspiration not confined to written documents, nor to any age	55
Scripture to be used, not as a formal treatise, but as a sacred literature	55
Example of Pearson on the Creed. Of Harmonies of the Gospels	55
Use of the Old Testament in the New—
1 Cor. xiv. 21 and 1st, xxviii. 11, 12	59
Rom. iv. 3 and Gen. xv. 6	61
2 Cor. iii. 13 and Exod. xxxiv. 29, 30	61
St. Paul's doctrine of predestination. Rom. ix.-xi. to be understood, not after the letter, but after the spirit	62
Justification by faith	63
The apostolica of Christ	66
The literal and spiritual use of the Bible	69
Contrast between Mohammedanism and Christianity	71
The study of Scripture not less necessary now than formerly	72
