PREFACE

THE object of this volume is to tell in straightforward manner the message of Jesus concerning God the Father. The book is written after much study of what men have written concerning God and in sympathy with all the truth that modern scholarship has to offer on this great theme. But in harmony with the plan of the series no references to the literature of the subject cumber the pages. The bulk of the book is the result of direct exegesis of the words of Jesus. We come reverently with Philip to Jesus and say: "Lord, show us the Father, and it sufficeth us."
