FIGHTEEN years ago the Author published "Windsor in the Olden Time," which was very favourably received, and especially by those best acquainted with the Castle and neighbourhood. That little volume has now for a long time been out of print, and though repeatedly requested to republish it, sensible of its imperfection, he has always refused to do so. At length, however, having collected materials to render the book more complete, and more generally acceptable as a guide to the Castle, he has recast the whole, and now presents to the public a substantially new work.

He sincerely thanks all his friends connected with Windsor Castle and the Royal Service there—particularly Mr. Woodward, the Queen's Librarian—for the valuable assistance which he has received from them in preparing this publication.
